WEDNESDAY, NOV. 27, 1889.

BORN—To Dr. and Mrs. John Goddard, a girl.

Will Irwin is building a house in Henry's addition.

Mr. Heath has moved into the house of John Kinney.

Mr. William Newby is out again after a protracted illness.

Mr. Johnson, of Indiana, is visiting relatives in Maryville.

Miss Lula McKinney is spending Thanksgiving in Knoxville.

Rev. R. B. Makeney paid a flying visit to Maryville last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lowe, of Knoxville, visited friends here over Sunday.

Miss Eliza Shier, of Knoxville, is wintering here, stopping at Rev. Lord's.

Fixing to take stock; hence goods cheaper than ever at Blankenship & Rule's.

A College quartette will give ringing music at the Demorest Contest.

John Holland, of the 14th district, has sold his farm and moved into Maryville.

Mr. Ashley, of Indiana, father of Mrs. Dr. Hathaway, is here to spend the winter.

P. T. Haggard will move his family to Knoxville, where he will work at the carpenters' trade.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Greer have returned from a five months trip through Europe.—Journal.

Admission free to the College Medal contest Thursday, Dec. 5th, 6 1/2 p. m. See College Notes.

Our goods must be sold as we want to take stock on the first of December, Blankenship & Rule's.

Miss Dila Baker, well known here, was here one day last week. She left for Georgia Thursday morning.

Miss Patty Marston, who has been teaching at Huntsville, came in Friday evening, to visit her mother.

How many persons will furnish us one, two, three, four or five new subscribers. Send us your names at once.

A protracted meeting was begun at the Centennial church Sunday night. A good deal of interest is manifested.

Miss Birdie Young, of Knoxville attended the "Dickens," last Thursday. While in the city she stopped at Dr. Bartlett's.

The "editor" says, that Kansas City, is the Naples of the North West, except that it is beating Naples in progress.

Dr. Ashley Wynn and Geo. W. Trotter, of Pigeon Forge, Sevier County, were here last week with a view of locating.

G. A. Toole will be headquarters for Oysters and Celery, during Thanksgiving. He gets them fresh from Norfolk, Va.

A surprise party was given Miss Francine Young, last Saturday evening, at Prof. Clark's. An enjoyable time was had.

Headaches are often caused by defects of sight. It will cost nothing to call on Dr. Hathaway and have your eyes tested.

Silas Morton returned last Friday from Atlanta, where he attended the convention of the Knights of Labor. He reports a fine time.

LOADED SHELLS OF ALL GRADES—$1.50 per 100.

S. P. ANGEL.
Knoxville, Tenn.

Geo. W. Trotter, of Sevier county, will take charge of the Jackson House. Mr. Trotter was formerly proprietor of the Lyons' Spring hotel.

Jesse Stanley, who has been connected with black-smithing near the depot, left Thursday morning for Richmond, Ind., to locate near there.

Mrs. Joseph E. Houston, a very excellent lady of about 78 years, died at Madisonville last week. She has many friends and relatives in this county.

As announced in the churches on last Sunday, Thanksgiving services will be held in the Baptist church, this year. Rev. Dr. Boardman will preach the sermon.

Miss Allie Hudiburg was present at the Dickens' party at the Court House, on last Thursday night. Miss Hudiburg is the daughter of Postmaster Hudiburg, of Knoxville.

If you wear spectacles it is very important to have them accurately adapted to fit the eyes. Otherwise they may do great harm. Dr. Hathaway will test your eyes and give you a prescription for exactly such a glass as you ought to use. 3t

Deputies Freshour and McKenale brought in two moonshiners from Monroe county Monday. They left for Cades Cove about an hour after they arrived here, after more "meat."

We visited the furniture store of Charles Pflanze and found a fine stock of furniture, etc., at exceedingly low prices. If you want Christmas presents for your friends, this is the place to get them. 1t

Maryville has a curiosity in the way of a man who can stand erect, "flat-footed," and scratch his leg below his knee with his hand. Tom Macklin has the longest arms of any person we have seen up to date.

Z. H. Lasseter sold out his hotel property last Saturday, at public auction. Mr. Lasseter left for Nashville yesterday morning. He will locate somewhere in the South. His wife will visit in Louisville a week before joining him.

We ask every republican in the county to take the TIMES. Prepare to begin at the first of the year. And let every man who is able, send it out to a friend or two away from the county, for the next year. That is the way to build up Blount county.

Many defects of vision tend to increase rapidly if not corrected by suitable glasses. Students and all who use their eyes much, ought not to neglect to have their eyes tested and use glasses if they are required. Call on Dr. Hathaway and have your eyes examined.

Mr. R. N. Magill, the clothing salesman, will leave Friday to take charge of the store of the Standard Coal Co. at Milldale, Ala., on the L. & N. Mineral railroad. Mr. Magill served very efficiently as Mayor of Dayton for one term. He will take his family with him as far as his father's at Maryville, where they will visit and Mr. Magill will go on to Milldale. The Co. has lost a valuable man in Bob, and the Milldale Co. gained a good manager. His many friends here regret to lose him from their midst, but will join the Leader in best wishes for his prosperity.—Dayton Leader

Deaths.

Death has been reaping a bountiful harvest this week in town and the county. Some of our most respected citizens have passed away. We chronicle the following:

Capt. W. H. Kirk, an old citizen of this place and an ex-postmaster, died yesterday morning, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Kirk died from a stroke of paralysis. He was at Knoxville Monday, and up in town Monday night, and was taken sick 1 o'clock Tuesday morning, being sick only eight hours.

A Miss Cooper, an employee of the Rockford Cotton Mills, died on Sunday. We did not learn any particulars.

Hoeg Beals died last week, near Friendsville.

Mrs. William Goddard, mother of James and Elias Goddard, died Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. She was buried Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

The wife of William Brewer, near Rockford, died last Friday.

William H. McNeal, of Long Hollow, for a number of years Justice of Peace, died on last Wednesday, age 78 years.
